Licking County Trail System

The Licking County Trail System is a network of trails that wind through the county, offering a variety of scenic routes for bike riders, runners, and walkers. The system is maintained by the Licking County Trails, a nonprofit organization, and is supported by local governments, businesses, and individuals.

The map above shows the various trails and their connections, including the Mohican State Park Trail, the Licking River Trail, and the Ohio to Erie Trail. To get the most out of your experience, be sure to check the trail conditions and weather forecast before heading out.

For more information about Licking County Trails and to find your next adventure, visit the Licking County Trails website or contact them directly. Happy trails!